17 ORDER GRANTING APPLE'S
18 UNOPPOSED MOTION TO STAY
19 PENDING INTER PARTES REVIEW

20 Re: Dkt. Nos. 119, 145
21

22 Before the Court is Defendant Apple Inc's ("Apple") unopposed motion to stay pending
23 inter partes review. Dkt. No. 45. For the reasons discussed herein, the motion is GRANTED.

24 This patent infringement action concerns two patents at issue, U.S. Patent Nos. 9,665,705
25 ("'705 Patent") and 8,620,039 ("'039 Patent"), asserted by Plaintiff CPC Patent Technology Pty
26 Ltd. ("CPC") against Apple's Touch ID and Face ID functions. See Compl., Dkt. No. 1. The 27 invention of the '705 Patent provides for enrollment in a biometric security system where the 28 user's biometric data is securely stored and can be used to unlock the device, and invention of the
'039 Patent concerns smart card device security using biometric data. Dkt. No. 145 at 1. Apple petitioned the Patent Trial and Appeal Board ("PTAB") to institute inter partes review ("IPR") of the '705 Patent and the '039 Patent on February 23, 2022.

On June 14, 2022, Defendant Apple filed two motions: (i) a motion to stay pending IPR (Dkt. No. 119) along with (ii) an administrative motion to stay briefing on CPC's summary judgment motion, or, in the alternative, to expedite Apple's stay motion (Dkt. No. 120). The Court granted Apple's administrative motion, staying the briefing on Plaintiff CPC's summary judgment motion and shortening the time on Apple' stay motion which it heard on August 29,

ORDER GRANTING APPLE'S UNOPPOSED MOT. TO STAY PENDING IPR

1 2022. Dkt. No. 125. The Court subsequently further stayed this action until November 17, 2022
2 after the parties informed the Court that institution decisions were expected on both patents by 3 November. See Dkt. Nos. 119 at 2; 142. The '705 Patent and the '039 Patent were instituted by 4 the PTAB on September 28, 2022 and October 17, 2022 respectively. Dkt. Nos. 145-2, 145-3.

5 On November 7, Apple filed the instant unopposed motion to stay pending final resolution
6 of the inter partes review now before the Court. Dkt. No. 145. The unopposed motion asks this 7 Court to keep this action stayed until the PTAB issues final written decisions for both IPR 8 proceedings related to the '705 and '039 patents. Id.

9 "Courts have inherent power to manage their dockets and stay proceedings, including the 10 authority to order a stay pending conclusion of a PTO reexamination." Microsoft Corp. v. TiVo
11 Inc., No. 10-CV-00240-LHK, 2011 WL 1748428, at *3 (N.D. Cal. May 6, 2011); Ethicon, Inc. v.
12 Quigg, 849 F.2d 1422, 1426–27 (Fed. Cir. 1988). Courts "examine three factors when 13 determining whether to stay a patent infringement case pending review or reexamination of the 14 patents: (1) whether discovery is complete and whether a trial date has been set; (2) whether a stay
15 will simplify the issues in question and trial of the case; and (3) whether a stay would unduly 16 prejudice or present a clear tactical disadvantage to the nonmoving party." PersonalWeb Tech.,
17 LLC v. Apple Inc., 69 F. Supp. 3d 1022, 1025 (N.D. Cal. 2014) (citations and quotations omitted).

18 All three factors weigh in favor of granting a stay. First, the case is already stayed, and no
19 discovery has occurred since its issuance. The Court ordered a stay pending IPR institution 20 decisions which the PTAB granted. Before the stay was issued the case was recently transferred 21 from another district, the Court has not issued a scheduling order, the parties have engaged in 22 limited discovery (fact discovery is incomplete, and expert discovery has not begun), and a trial
23 date has not been set. Dkt. No. 119 at 4–6; Pi-Net Int'l, Inc. v. Focus Bus. Bank, No. 12-CV-
24 04958-PSG, 2013 WL 4475940, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 16, 2013) (granting stay where a trial date 25 was scheduled but significant discovery remained).

26 Second, a stay would undoubtedly simplify the issues and avoid duplicative effort because 27 the PTAB instituted IPR of all the asserted claims of the two asserted patents at issue. "If either of

1 Apple's IPRs are successful, some or all of CPC's asserted claims will be found invalid." Dkt.
2 No. 145 at 4; Viavi Sols. Inc. v. Platinum Optics Tech. Inc., No. 5:20-CV-05501-EJD, 2021 WL
3 1893142, at *1 (N.D. Cal. May 11, 2021) ("[A] stay pending the PTAB's decision on whether to 4 institute IPR petitions will promote efficiency by avoiding the expenditure of limited judicial 5 resources between now and when the last PTAB institution decision will be rendered."); see also 6 Finjan, Inc. v. Symantec Corp., 139 F.Supp.3d 1032, 1037 (N.D. Cal. 2015) ("Were the Court to 7 deny the stay until a decision on institution is made, the parties and the Court would expend
8 significant resources on issues that could eventually be mooted by the IPR decision.").

9 Finally, the lack of undue influence also favors a stay. Here, Apple's motion is unopposed
10 and both parties agree that a stay is appropriate under these circumstances. Dkt. No. 145 at 1
11 ("CPC does not oppose this Motion to the extent it requests that the Court stay this action until the 12 PTAB issues final written decisions for both IPR proceedings."). There is no risk of an indefinite 13 stay, either, because the stay will remain in place only until the PTAB issues final written 14 decisions between September and October 2023. Should either party wish to stay this action
15 through final resolution of any appeals related to the IPR petitions the parties may revisit the scope 16 of the stay at a later date.

17 Accordingly, the Court GRANTS Apple's motion to further stay the present action in its 18 entirety pending final resolution of Apple's IPRs related to the '705 and '039 Patents. All pending 19 motions are terminated for administrative purposes only, and without prejudice to renew the 20 motions after the stay is lifted.

21 IT IS SO ORDERED.
